GRAYLING, MICHIGAN, FEBRUARY 27, 1930

This Week

By Arthur Brisbane
Big Corporation Useful
On Crime's Highway
Worrying the Burglar
Education and Money

The General Electric company has perfected a device to transport electric power over longer distances at less expense. The invention, called a "thyatron," is described as a modified vacuum tube, adapted to power transmission uses.

Some day science will "hook up" the world's great power stations of North America, Niagara, those in the Rocky mountains, on the Columbia river, Brazil, with other great stations in Africa and all over the world, as radio stations are now hooked up. They will come wireless transmission of power, so that airplanes will be able to "pick up power" at various points in their journey, instead of carrying tons of fuel.

The research work done by such institutions as General Electric, United States Steel, Westinghouse, Standard Oil, etc., will give back to the public in increased prosperity a hundred dollars for every one that those big corporations have ever received.

This country is traveling rapidly on the road that leads to thoroughly organized crime and complete contempt for law.

A United States grand jury reports that officials supposed to suppress the sale of drugs are organized on a "racket" basis, misrepresenting their activities to get more money from the government.

Some of them are alleged to be narcotic addicts. The charge is made that the big men in the business can "buy their way out," if they get in trouble.

In the seven months past criminals and others have purchased three rifles as many pistols as were sold together in the twelve months of 1929. A big demand for killing machinery.

Mr. Louis Pierson of New York's Irving Trust company delights in annoying burglars. He built, far underground, below his new fifty-story building, a safety vault lined with toughest steel, thick as the ancient walls of Jerusalem. It is the biggest vault in the world except those of our Reserve Bank and the Bank of England.

Now he surrounds his steel walls with a thick layer of water, so that the poor bank burglar, even if he did break through the heavy steel, would have to do his work in a diving suit, most awkward for handling dynamite and drills.

Henry Ford, planning to spend one hundred millions educating young people on his own lines, making them "fit into life," teaching every one a trade, wants no advice.

He is right. No one knows better than he how to prepare boys for useful work. But Mr. Ford spoke hastily when he said he wanted no advice on education from those that never earned or saved a dollar.

The world's greatest educators have not been money makers or savers. Aristotle, who taught Philip's son, Alexander, made no fortune for himself. Alexander, conqueror of the world, spent collecting specimens for Aristotle, greatest naturalist and philosopher of the world, more than the total fortune left him by King Philip.

Conrad Hubert, who changed his name from Horowitz, made many millions, left $3,000,000 to useful charities, left $1,000,000 to his brother.

The brother, who sticks to his old-fashioned name, Horowitz, has been a humble court interpreter and he says he will now devote his time to German opera and charity.

Why did the rich brother wait until he was dead to give a million dollars to his mother's other son?

Many of us forget the proverb often quoted by Nathan Straus:

"What you give in health is gold, what you give in sickness is silver, what you give after death is lead."

Automobile makers will spend $15,000,000 scrapping old cars to clear the way for new cars and moderate the second-hand car nuisance.

Mr. H. Grant, vice president of General Motors, one of the best salesmen in America, is chairman of the scrapping committee.

Perhaps Mr. Grant could find a way to ship those old cars, knocked down, to foreign countries—China, Africa, anywhere. Ten million old cars scattered over the earth would soon create an appetite for ten million new cars, just as the little car creates a demand for a larger car.

An expert says that in nine years, from the end of 1920 to the end of 1929, stocks were going up 66 per cent of the time, and going down 34 per cent.

The difficulty is to pick out the time when they are going up.

Two $20,000 speed boats, each carrying three Liberty motors, with 38 knot speed, will help heat-runners in New York waters.

Other fast boats, costing $250,000, will be put on the lakes to check run running there.

BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT MAR. 6-7-8

TWELVE H. S. TEAMS TO COMPETE IN GRAYLING

The annual district high school basket ball tournaments will be held in Michigan next week, March 6, 7, and 8. Twelve teams are scheduled to fight it out here and a big time is looked forward to by the participants as well as by the local basket ball fans.

M. A. Bates has been appointed general manager of the tournament and he will be assisted by Emil Kraus and T. P. Peterson, all three being members of the school board.

There are four teams listed in class C—Grayling, Gaylord, West Branch and Lake City. In class D the following teams are listed: McBain, Houghton Lake, St. Joe (West Branch), Mio, St. Mary's (Gaylord), Hillman, Vandenberg and Comins.

Season tickets will sell for $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for school pupils. The drawings for schedules will take place March 1st at which time all coaches are expected to be present. The first game will start at 2:30 on Thursday afternoon. Games will be scheduled for each afternoon and evening thereafter until the finals on Saturday night. The schedules as submitted by Manager Bates is as follows:

On Thursday afternoon there will be two class D games; Thursday night two class D games.

On Friday afternoon there will be three class D games and in the evening two class C games.

Saturday afternoon there will be one class D and one class C consolation games.

Saturday night there will be final championship games in class C and class D. Following these games there will be the awarding of the prizes.

Beautiful trophies will go to these teams winning basketball championships during the staging of the annual tournaments within the next few weeks. To the winner of every title in any class in the district tournament, will go a 14 1/2 inch silver basketball figure. Champions in regional tournaments will be the recipients of a 15 inch trophy shield.

A fairly gigantic trophy goes to the state champions, however. A silver basketball figure standing 28 inches in height will be awarded the Michigan champions in all four classes.

The team that finishes second in the state title games at Detroit will receive a 16-inch gold finish figure. Gunmen are going out of business, so far as the Michigan High School Athletic association is concerned. The association has issued an order for high schools conducting state tournaments this year to abolish use of the gun in stopping basketball games. Failure of the gun to fire has caused many arguments in past tournament games and to avoid these unpleasant aftermaths, a hand-operated automobile horn is to supplant the firearm.

Another change in the tournament this year is that an official scorebook will be provided district tournament managers. All games will be scored in this book which will be sent to the office of A. W. Thompson, state director of high school athletics, where it will be filed. Thus scores may be available in the office here at a minute's notice.

Efforts are being made continually to standardize the tournaments in all sections of Michigan. The adoption of a single brand of basketball was an important step. The selection of officials approved by the state department was yet another. So it is that a team entering a tournament at Ironwood, for instance, will find exactly the same playing conditions prevailing as at a tournament in Niles in the southwestern corner of the lower peninsula, hundreds of miles away.

1—Gov. Theodore Roosevelt addressing the Porto Rican legislature concerning his projects to alleviate distress in the island. 2—Biltmore, the mansion of George W. Vanderbilt at Asheville, N. C., which is now thrown open certain days each week so the public may see its treasures of art. 3—Strikebreakers in the taxi chauffeurs' strike at Pittsburgh donning steel helmets to prevent broken heads.

ALFRED HANSON NEW OAKLAND DEALER

The Oakland Motor Car Company, announces another addition to its nationwide dealer organization in the appointment of Alfred Hanson as Oakland-Pontiac dealer here for the new Oakland Eight and its companion car, the smart New Series Pontiac Big Six. The public is invited to visit the showroom at Grayling and inspect the various models comprising the new lines.

The "huge" Oakland-Pontiac sales group with which the new dealer is now identified, has shown one of the most remarkable growths in the entire automobile industry. With nearly 3,000 dealers throughout the United States, it now is approximately five times the size of the 1925 Oakland dealer organization.

The remarkable growth in Oakland-Pontiac sales is the most convincing endorsement of the company's policy of constantly refining its products. Such features as Duo, four-wheel brakes, the rubber-silenced chassis, crankcase ventilation and automatic spark control, have contributed greatly to the fame and prestige of Oakland products.

The company's latest pioneering achievement is embodied in the many new automotive developments distinguishing the Oakland Eight.

While retaining its established position in the six cylinder field with the New Series Pontiac Big Six, which presents many mechanical refinements, the company this year also has entered the eight cylinder field with a moderate-priced powerful V-type Oakland that offers new peaks of speed and acceleration.

JUNIOR PLAY PLEASES AUDIENCE

The Juniors gave their annual play entitled "High Flyers" last Friday evening at the school auditorium and proved themselves to be of real talent. The auditorium was packed to full capacity and every moment of the interest of the audience was held. Every one of the cast was at his best and did splendid work.

The names of three characters were not mentioned last week owing to the fact that the cast was not completed when we went to press. They were Jean Thorn taking the part of Ann, Lura Ensign as Bee and Carl Sherman as Bob.

Juniors, we liked your play. You did wonderful work, so good that most of the time we were not sure that we were at a school play, it was given so nicely. Mr. Hill deserves his share of credit also for being such an able director. The "High Flyers" flew high that night and even the old folks did a little flying themselves, didn't they? It was fine and we would like to see another play given by you.

MRS. MARCELINE LOVELY PASSED AWAY

Mrs. Marceline Lovely passed away at her home Friday, February 21 after an illness of several months. The funeral services were held from St. Mary's church Monday morning. Culligan officiated and two nephews of the deceased, Richard and Ernest Lovely, served during mass. Interment in Elmwood cemetery.

Mrs. Lovely was 75 years old and was born in Thurso, Canada, October 10, 1854. She was united in marriage to Jerry Lovely in 1899, at St. Mary's church, Grayling. To this union four children were born of which only one son Archie survives. Mr. Lovely passed away nine years ago.

GREAT MOVIE TALKER COMING

SHOWS AT RIALTO THEATRE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, MARCH 7-8

At Last "Cock Eyed World," Long Awaited Leatherneck Classic Produced By Fox Films, Featuring McLaglen With Lowe And Damita, Comes To Cheer Us

Long awaited but well worth the waiting for, "The Cock Eyed World," Raoul Walsh's masterful Fox Movie-tone effort has come to town and is housed at the Rialto for an engagement of two days, starting Friday, March 7.

Since the advent of talking pictures, no production has come to this city with such glorious acclaim from all parts of the country as this achievement of Movietone, which by the way is an all talking picture.

Based on a story by Laurence Stallings and Maxwell Anderson, who co-authored the memorable "What Price Glory," it features Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe, and Lily Damita—Lowe and McLaglen again the fighting marines but now, in times of peace, confining their chief battles to passages at arms over their various lady loves.

The trend of the story takes the marines to Russia, to the tropics and to New York and Coney Island. Lily Damita, more fascinating than ever, is their girl of the tropics; Lela Karmelly their Russian girl and Jean Barry their New York girl.

Quelling an uprising in the tropics is their only opportunity to do the battling the marines are noted for, and Walsh has, even in this comparatively minor engagement, clipped for drama, force and thrills and battle of "What Price Glory."

"The Cock Eyed World" has every ingredient that makes for real pastime; humor, sparkling dialog, hectic love scenes, tense drama and a happy combination of all those things that appeal from the screen, especially to the feminine sex.

The supporting cast is excellent, with El Brendel, former star of musical comedy and vaudeville, reaping plenty of honors with his incomparable portrayal of a Swede Marine, "Olson," Joe Brown and Bobby Burns also have important roles.

THE REPORT CARD

(By Grayling Public Schools)

Seniors Choose "The Touchdown" As Class Play

"The Touchdown" is a modern drama of college life and possesses real merit, so the Seniors are very happy over the choice made.

Mrs. LaBarge has consented to act as coach and she has successfully coached this play on several former occasions. We look forward to an exceptionally good production.

Junior's Present Play

Last Friday afternoon and evening, the Junior class presented its annual class play, "High Flyers." The play was very successfully worked out, and all the characters played their parts exceptionally well. Jerome Kesseler, as Jack Whitney, presented a typical college boy striving for an education in a modern college, Annabel Harris playing opposite Jerome, also took her part well. Betty Welsh, with all the pep of a college girl was one of the best.

As a whole, the play was very well received and the Junior class realized a nice sum for its treasury.

Gaylord vs. Grayling

The High School gym is decorated with two different sets of colors, green and white for Grayling and blue and gold for Gaylord, both are symbolic for their schools.

The crowd is beginning to arrive, and what a crowd! Young and old each with that expression on their faces: "Just wait until my team begins, we'll show you something."

The aroma of popcorn is being sniffed and many buy some of the snowflake flakes, waiting patiently for the 2nd teams to appear.

The teams are running in, amid cheering from both sides, each for their favorite team. They are warming up. A whistle is blown, five from both squads take their positions on the floor. A toss up, sound of the whistle and the ball starts from one to another, a basket, another, etc.

The final bell. Gaylord wins! Such cheering—10 to 9. They leave the floor. The first team from Gaylord troops out on the floor. Gaylord with their cheer leader gives their team a rousing yell. In comes the green and white, another stimulating yell from the Grayling rooters with Mr. Hill as cheer master.

Again five men from each team take their position on the floor.

The whistle sounds, a toss up, Rudy gets the tip-off. Wonderful teamwork, final pass to Emery, he makes the basket. Crowd is yelling already highly aroused. Three more field shots are just made. Gaylord is asking for time out. The score is 8 and 0 in Grayling's favor. Grayling rooters are wild. G. H. S. students sing their school songs accompanied by Miss McAllister at the piano.

Time up. Start in again. Cook from Gaylord makes a field goal. Emery along with a field goal makes a free throw—he's going strong. Cook scores again, Goscha makes two free throws. Ciske a field goal and Burelson a free shot.

The going—half over—players leave floor amid much cheering. Score is 9-11.

Mr. Hill and the Grayling Hi students came back with their old song "Grayling will shine tonight." The students are certainly singing with all their might. Evidently, meaning every word.

The players are back on the floor, both squads looking very much determined.

Parker the referee again sounds his whistle, once more the ball begins moving. Sherman cages another. Back to center. Emery fouls, leaves floor. B. Harrison is being put in. Goscha of Gaylord makes both the free shots given him.

Gaylord is thoroughly excited. R. Harrison, Curnalia, Sheehy, each make a field goal. Ciske makes a field goal and Cook and Burelson free shots.

14 seconds left to play. The crowd is a regular wild mob—all standing breathlessly waiting for the final going.

It has come—21 to 18—And—Well—"Grayling will shine tonight."

SEEKS TO PREVENT RADIO ACCIDENTS

LOCAL POWER COMPANY TO REMOVE RADIO ANTENNA FROM ITS POLES

In the interest of public safety, the Michigan Public Service Company will remove all radio antenna attached to its poles, it has just been announced by Mr. F. A. Swanson, District Manager of the Company. This action is prompted by the fact that serious and fatal accidents from improperly installed aerials have occurred in various parts of the country, and the management is anxious to prevent similar accidents in this region.

In accordance with the Company's safety program, an inspection of the lines will be made, and in each case where an aerial is found to be attached to one of the company poles, the owner will be consulted and steps taken for removal. The company wishes to do everything in its power to abolish this practice which has resulted in many serious accidents, costing a great many lives.

Mr. F. A. Swanson has outlined a few simple precautions that should be exercised in the erection of a radio antenna.

Never climb a pole to which wires are attached. They might be in contact with high voltage wires and consequently dangerous.

Never string aerials over or under any other wires. Should these two sets of wires come in contact with one another, the aerials might become dangerously charged.

Never attach radio aerials or anything else to poles carrying wires of any sort. Accidental contacts with live wires may cause injury or death or bring about fires.

Always attach aerials to substantial supports so that if either the support or the aerial wire breaks, it cannot come in contact with other wires.

Remember it is quite practical to operate a radio set with an indoor aerial.

Many amateurs who plan the erection of a high aerial fail to realize the flimsiness of iron pipe in long lengths. An iron pipe pole is very flimsy and bends very easily during erecting. Such a pole should be erected by men experienced in this class of work.

An extremely important warning is that against picking up wires lying on the ground or dangling from a pole. The wire might be "alive," that is, charged with electricity to a dangerous degree. Fallen wires should be immediately reported to the company.

Radio fans especially have been asked to cooperate with the company in reducing and eliminating the dangers existing because of aerials attached to poles or running near high voltage wires.

OLD THINGS

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

We called on Kate, Nancy and I when we were in Pasadena. She had gone out there shortly after she had graduated from college, to live with an aunt of her mother's, and she was living in a new house of which she seemed very proud. I had never before in my life seen a house and its appointments so completely and distressingly new. It was as if two people without a stick of anything to which they could claim ownership had suddenly fallen heir to a fortune, and had decided to build a house and set up housekeeping.

The house itself had just been built, and it simply shone and smelled inside and out of varnish and fresh paint. Now fresh paint has a very healthy smell, I am told. Everything inside the house was new—the china, the silver, the furniture, the pictures, the rugs, the linen. There wasn't even an old knife or a cracked or a broken dish in the kitchen. Nothing about the place had any pleasant memories. I felt lonesome all the time I was there.

As for me, I like old things. There is a softness of coloring in old mahogany, a certain romance about an old chair or an old piece of china. The little oak armchair in my bedroom father cut out with a saw and fashioned with a spoke shave more than eighty years ago. It was the first chair he and mother had after they came to America. It has stood the wear and tear of hard usage and of frequent moving, and is still as solid as when father put it together. The old mahogany clock which ticks away on our mantelpiece was waiting to welcome Nancy's mother, when as a bride of sixteen, she was taken to the log cabin which her husband had proudly prepared for her. It is still doing a good job of keeping time in spite of its eighty-five years of service. It seems so much more companionable than a shiny brand-new clock would seem.

The little mirror over my dresser mother brought from England, and the chest of drawers to Nancy's bedroom came across the mountains in a lumber wagon from New England, when Nancy's great grandmother started on a pioneering journey to the wild Illinois country. They traveled slowly in those days, and the old dresser is none the worse for its beginnings of a thousand miles.

There is an oak chest standing in our hallway as a sort of catch-all for the things which have to be put away somewhere. Its rope handles and old brass lock are still intact. My Uncle Thomas kept his clothing in it when as an adventurous common sailor he fared around the world a hundred years ago. There is mother's wedding china, and grandmother's silver spoons, and the cupboards that Aunt Abigail used, and the thousand and one precious things which have come down from our ancestors. Each one has its own particular memories which new things could never call up.

I Trade at Home

Because my interests are here.

Because I want to see the goods.

Because I want to get what I want when I pay for it.

Because here I live and here I hope to die.

Because the men I buy from stand back of the goods.

Because the man I buy from pays part of town, county and state taxes.

Because every dollar I spend at home works for the community in which I live.

Because the community good enough for me to live in is good enough to buy in.

Because the man I buy from helps support my school, my lodge, my church, my home.

Because, when ill-luck, misfortune or bereavement come, the man I buy from is here with his kindly greetings, his words of cheer and his pocketbook if need be.

GOOD CANADIAN LIQUOR FOR 32c A GALLON

Editor M. F. DeFoe of the Charlotte Republican whose opinions are quite generally accepted has burst out with a plan to stop corruption. And we believe there is a lot of sense in it. Certainly the prohibition law hasn't worked out as well as many hoped it would. There isn't any prohibition for almost anyone can buy all the booze they want if they have the price. A salary of $30 a week for policemen in Detroit must look pretty small beside a bribe of $200 to overlook certain operations. And the liquor comes thru. People pay fabulous prices for an article said to cost about 32c a gallon to make.

Our acquaintanceship with Mr. DeFoe extends over many years and we know him for as fine a Christian gentleman as may be met anywhere. He is conscientious in all he does and is an able thinker and writer. In last week's edition of the Republican he says:

"Lay off Chicago. The pyramiding scandals in the Detroit police department investigation show that while we have been laughing at vaudeville jokes about gangland rule in Chicago our own dooryard needs attention. But don't be too harsh on the lowly Detroit policeman. In the first place it takes real manhood and a super will power for any man drawing $30 a week to refuse, say for illustration, a weekly bribe of $200 to overlook certain operations."

"O. D. Smith the special district attorney appointed to clean up the federal court docket, and a former small town lawyer, in Charlotte one day last week, said good Canadian liquor can be manufactured for thirty cents a gallon. Remember this figure, thirty cents a gallon. The reported standard price for a case of liquor is $32-de, delivered showing what a tremendous spread this business can write off for purposes of corruption. Until the profits are taken out of the liquor business don't blame the policeman. So long as this business pays the fabulous profits that it does can we expect or hope for law enforcement?"

"Here is a suggestion. Legalize the sale of a limited amount of pure liquors and beer direct to households. Use the present machinery of the postoffice department to serve as custodians of the warehouses and make the deliveries, collecting the purchase price, plus delivery charges at existing parcel post rates. Furnish pure liquor at actual cost which would eliminate the element of profit, the greatest problem in the present non-enforcement. Allow the government only the fee for transportation."

"No such beverage under our mythical plan could be transported a foot except by government truck. Make all violations of this regulation five years straight in a federal prison. No money fines. With the profit game and the transportation problem solved would the country settle down to whole some temperance? No man is going to get drunk in front of his family and besides his supply is limited by law. And by limited we mean a thingy allowance. In this way the old people who feel a certain satisfaction in having a quart of good liquor or a case of stout ale in the house for medicinal purposes could be legally served. Some cash plan would stop millions now being wasted and worse; it would place every home on an equality to such as desired it; do away with hypocrisy in high places and halt the growing need for more

BO. TO STOP ABUSE OF SCHOOL BLDG.

BOARD PASSES RESOLUTION AGAINST MISUSE OF BUILDING

Drastic regulations will be enforced in the future regarding the conduct of the people at the school house during dancing parties. For years there has been a more or less taken-for-granted attitude on the part of some people that it was all right to smoke in the building during parties and other public affairs. And also there have been charges of drinking of intoxicating liquor, as evidenced by the finding of empty whiskey bottles along the building.

The practice

FARM HELPS

For good results with cowpeas in the South, fertilize poor or unproductive soils with about 300 pounds of superphosphate and 50 pounds of potash to the acre. Apply the fertilizer when preparing the seedbed.

If you are planning to treat seed wheat with copper-carbonate dust to control flag smut or stinking smut, the sooner it is done the better, as the copper carbonate affords some protection from damage by weevils, rats, and mice.

The brooder stove should be run for two or three days before the chicks are hatched, to get it regulated to the right temperature. One inch of dry sand put on the floor under and around the stove will serve as litter and lessen the danger of fire in the house. A supply of chestnut or small coal should be on hand.

Dipping in an arsenical solution for the cattle tick should begin in March, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and should be continued at two-week intervals until November, if this pest is to be eradicated. The cattle tick transmits tick fever, reduces beef and milk production, and makes necessary costly and annoying quarantines. Ticky cattle sell for one half to 2 cents per pound less than tickless cattle.

It is poor economy to have the dairy cow thin at calving time. Cows in good condition at time of calving will start off the lactation period at a higher level of production than will thin cows and will give a larger yield of milk for the year. Feed during the dry period should be high in minerals, particularly calcium, or lime and phosphorus. Properly cured legume hay will supply calcium. Wheat bran or the oil meals will furnish the phosphorus. Considerable protein also is needed for the development of the foetus.

The "drillability" of fertilizer will depend on the care it gets in storage. Fertilizer should be kept in a dry place, preferably on a wooden floor above the ground level, until ready for use. It usually becomes less drillable when stored in the field, as is often done in certain sections, or in a dump place, or on the ground. If fertilizer absorbs moisture in storage, it should be dried before distribution, by spreading it in a thin layer on boards or canvas in the sun; if it becomes lumpy it should be screened, the lumps broken up, and then mixed. The humidity of the air is usually lowest from noon until 4 p. m. of sunny days. Damp fertilizers dry best and can be distributed most efficiently at such times.

Smut in oats causes large annual losses, yet this disease is easily and cheaply controlled by treating the seed with formaldehyde, applied as a spray, sprinkle, or dip. Whatever method is used, one pint of formaldehyde properly diluted will treat 50 bushels of oats. Seed should be cleaned thoroughly and graded before it is treated. Surplus seed treated with formaldehyde may be fed to livestock without injury, provided the grain is first spread out and thoroughly aired for several days. If bags and sacks have been used for smutty oats, they should be soaked in a formaldehyde solution or sprayed with it before treated seed is put in them. Contaminated drills also should be disinfected. Formaldehyde is irritating to the eyes, nose, and throat and must be handled with care.

Night-Watchman Wins New Medicine Which Gave Him Prompt And Complete Relief

MR. GUSTAVE ZECH

"I know from my own personal experience what a wonderful medicine Konjola is, and am very glad to recommend it," said Mr. Gustave Zech, 239 Corrine street, S. W., Grand Rapids. "I was bothered for years with rheumatism. I am a night watchman, and my work requires me to be on my feet a great deal of the time. This rheumatism in my feet and legs made it very hard for me to do my work, at as times I could hardly get about. I also had stomach and kidney troubles; could not eat without being in agony afterward; and my rest was broken by frequent bladder actions."

"But now I have taken five bottles of Konjola and my aches and pains are all gone. My appetite is better and I can eat almost anything I want. Kidney trouble no longer bothers me. I feel like a different man."

DISTRIBUTE SPIREA, BARBERRY AND CONCORD GRAPES

75,000 Plants Distributed In Fifteen Years

The Agricultural Department of Central State Teachers College of Mt. Pleasant, through the efforts of Prof. Myron A. Cobb, has distributed over 75,000 plants in the last fifteen years—largely barberry plants and walnut trees.

This year's distribution will be Japanese barberry, Privet, and Concord grapes.

Fifteen years ago Prof. Cobb grew walnut seedlings and distributed them originally through the school children. The demand by citizens as well as school children was so great that plants were secured from other sources as M.S.C. of East Lansing. This distribution was continued for seven years—a total of 35,000 trees were distributed. Many plants are bearing nuts now.

Other plants as grapes, maple and spirea were added to the list. The distribution of walnut plants has been discontinued.

For the past eight years the demand for Japanese barberry has been so great that many years the supply was not equal to the demand and many were disappointed. Last year after distributing in the seven previous years 33,000 plants, 7,000 plants were sent out and still the public called for more.

The 1930 distribution will be barberry seedlings, concord grapes, and privet. These plants are sent at cost by mail. Seven thousand plants will be distributed.

THREE IMPORTANT FACTORS
ENTER INTO THE COST OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE

1. How much it costs to make the car
2. How much extra you pay the dealer
3. How much it costs for operation and up-keep

THE PURCHASE of an automobile involves a considerable amount of money and it should be carefully considered from all angles before a final decision is made.

The value of the car to you depends on the value built into it at the factory, how much extra you pay the dealer for distribution, selling, financing and accessories and what it will cost to operate and maintain the car after purchase. Each of these factors, as it relates to the Ford car, is frankly explained below.

Economy in production

THE FORD CAR is made economically because of the efficiency of Ford production methods. The money saved through this efficiency is put back into the car in improved quality of material and in greater care and accuracy in manufacturing. The constant effort is to eliminate waste and find ways to make each part better and better without increasing cost—frequently at lowered cost.

Because of Ford economies in large production and because the Ford organization operates on a low-profit margin, the price you pay for the car is much less than it would be under any other conditions. Yet it brings you many unusual features of construction and performance.

At least $75 extra value is represented alone by the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, the Rustless Steel, the four Hondaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, and the five steel-spoke wheels. The unusually large number of ball and roller bearings and the extensive use of fine steel forgings instead of castings or stampings are additional features that reflect the high quality built into every part of the car. Throughout, it is a value far above the price you pay.

Low dealer charges

THE SAME PRINCIPLES of efficiency and economy that characterize the manufacture of the Ford car are applied also to distribution. Obviously it would do the public little good to save in production if these savings were sacrificed later in excessive costs of selling, financing and accessories.

The Ford dealer, therefore, operates on the same low-profit margin as the Ford Motor Company, his discount or commission being the lowest of any automobile dealer. He does a good business because he makes a small profit on many sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales.

NOTE THESE LOW PRICES

Roadster . . .	$435
Phaeton . . .	$440
Coupe . . .	$500
Two-window Fordor Sedan . . .	$600
Three-window Fordor Sedan . . .	$625
Cabriolet . . .	$645
Town Sedan . . .	$670

(All prices f. o. b. Detroit)

Low charges for time payments through the Universal Credit Company

The lower cost of selling, combined with the low charges for financing and accessories, means a direct saving of at least $50 to $75 to every purchaser of a Ford, in addition to the savings made possible by economies in manufacturing. The money you pay for a Ford goes into value in the car. It is not wasted in high dealer charges.

Low up-keep costs

IT IS IMPORTANT to remember that the cost of your automobile is not the first cost only, but the total cost after months and years of service. Here again there is a decided saving when you buy a Ford.

The cost of operation and up-keep is lower because of simplicity of design, the high quality of material, and the reduction of friction and wear through unusual accuracy in manufacturing and assembling. The reliability and longer life of the car contribute to its low depreciation per year of use.

The intelligent, painstaking service rendered by Ford dealers is under close factory supervision and is a factor in the low up-keep cost of the Ford. All labor is billed at a flat rate and replacement parts are always available at low prices through Ford dealers in every section of the United States.

In two, three or five years, depending on how much you drive, the saving in operating and maintaining a new Ford will amount to even more than the saving on the first cost of the car.

FINDS STATE BANKS WELL SUPERVISED

Bankers Body Sees Less Politics In Banking Departments With Better Facilities In the Hands of the Responsible Officials.

A survey of state banking departments by the State Bank Division American Bankers Association, discloses a distinct tendency the past five years to take bank supervision out of politics, to increase the discretionary powers of bank commissioners, to lengthen their terms of office, to supply them with adequate forces of qualified examiners and to relieve banking departments of duties foreign to banking, says a recent statement issued by the association.

"We have consistently urged that the office of bank commissioner be freed from partisan politics as the judiciary itself and that it be divorced from all other functions of state government," the statement says. "Further, that his term of office be made more secure and lasting, with sufficient salary and power granted to attract and retain the services of men of outstanding executive ability, courage, resourcefulness and successful banking experience.

"Five years ago the first survey of state banking departments by the division demonstrated the need for improvements. On the basis of data now in hand it is evident that, through the revision of statutes in many states, rapid steps are being taken in the right direction. One by one the states are coming to recognize the primary importance of strong, competent banking departments. The demand for increasing the effectiveness of banking departments is beginning to be met."

How Bank Commissioners Are Chosen The office of bank commissioner is now operated as an independent department of state government in thirty-four states, the bankers find. In two states the bank commissioner is elected at general elections; in one he is appointed from eligible lists of the civil service and in another he is selected by the banks. In one state the bankers' association elects a list of five names from which the governor appoints one as superintendent of banks; in another he is appointed by the State Corporation Commission and in another by the State Banking Board.

"Terms of office of bank commissioners have been lengthened in several states during the last five years," the report says. "In 28 states the term is four years, in one, five years, and in three it is six years and in some the term is indefinite. A short term is condemned on the grounds that the commissioner has insufficient time to become thoroughly conversant with his field work. A longer term permits his rendering useful service through capitalizing his experience. Five years ago the average length of service was less than three years, while now it has risen to five years."

Higher Standards Required "Signs of an awakening to the necessity of making successful banking experience a qualification for bank commissioner are evident. While eleven states report no banking experience necessary, the majority require experience of this sort, ranging from two to five years. Twelve states now have banking boards, with powers ranging from acting in an advisory capacity to full power over all state banks to issue and reject charters.

"A healthy sign is the number of reports which disclose that the commissioners have full power to appoint bank examiners or that these appointments are made from civil service lists. This power is now granted to the commissioner by twenty-seven states. Three require that selection be from civil service lists. Complaints are still made in a few states of political pressure in the appointment of examiners, but the contrary seems to be true in a growing number of states. The most capable commissioners can not successfully perform his duties unless he is able to command the services of efficient, honest examiners. The safety of depositors is dependent on their work, and their appointment, fitness and compensation are highly important. The number of examiners has increased 25 per cent in the last five years."

BANKERS TO HOLD GREAT CONVENTION

Cleveland, Ohio, has been designated for the 1930 annual convention of the American Bankers Association. This organization, which numbers about 20,000 banks with $45,000,000,000 in assets, is annually the nation's most important financial event. The attendance ranges between five and ten thousand.

Cleveland is especially significant in the history of the Association's educational traditions since it was in this city, when the organization last met there in the year 1899, that the original resolution was presented looking to the formation of an educational section. This subsequently resulted in the American Institute of Banking in which are now enrolled 35,000 bank men and women engaged in the study of the technical and scientific phases of the business.

Some time ago an article was published to the effect that Dr. Barrus and family were located near Kalamazoo. This was an error as we have received word that they are located at Hillsdale, Michigan. Dr. Barrus is working for The Childrens Fund in Branch and Hillsdale counties.

The officers of Grayling Lodge F. & A. M. assisted the Roscommon Lodge F. & A. M. with third degree work last Monday night. The members attending from the Grayling lodge were Carl Peterson, Frank Ahman, Philip Quigley, George Schiabe, Otto Failing, Roy Holmberg, Ernest Borchers, Theodore Stephan, George Skingley and Clayton Straehly.

Mr. and Mrs. Addison M. Lewis and son Mark of Flint were in Grayling over the week end. Fire wiped out Mr. Lewis' drug store about a month ago and he says that the new structure is nearly finished and that he will be able to re-open his business in about three weeks. Mrs. James Cameron was hostess Saturday afternoon to several of her friends who came to honor her birthday. Mrs. H. B. Smith, Sr., of Bay City has set aside $400,000 for the erection of a memorial non-sectarian hospital in Bay City, which is available if one-half of this amount can be raised within the next few years. The $400,000 will be available at such time as the $200,000 is secured. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have a beautiful cottage on the AuSable and just a few weeks ago some of the family were in Grayling to enjoy the winter sports.

Mrs. Esbern Hanson was hostess to her Bridge club at a luncheon of beautiful appointments Saturday afternoon at her home. In the center of the long table at which the guests were seated was a large bouquet of pink roses, freesias and blue lace flowers; this was banked by pink tapers in silver candlesticks while rose nut cups graced each place of the guests. Three tables were filled for bridge, the high score being held by Mrs. C. R. Keyport.

The enterprising citizens of Grayling planned and staged an interesting two days of winter sports. The enterprising citizens went down into their purses and were not cheap when it came to the matter of financing such an entertainment. The enterprising citizens of Grayling were rewarded well by crowds of people that came there from near-by towns, from far away towns and cities, all joining in the play and games and winter sports, and had the best kind of a time. The enterprising citizens of Grayling have accomplished a lot toward selling their own people on the winter sports idea, and establishing themselves as a coming winter sport center that may some day grow into something big and great. The enterprising citizens of Grayling must not be discouraged because a property owner of that community attempted to hold them up for pay for trees claimed to have been cut down on some land he owned adjoining the toboggan slide. Every good town has some folks of that stripe. They just spur the good citizens of a good town to bigger things for the town, take away the opposition and it wouldn't be any fun running a town at all.—Cheboygan Observer.

Among the Grayling people spending their time in Florida this month are Oscar Hanson and Esbern Olson who with Billy Raac of Johannesburg, it is reported, may be found on the golf course at almost any time of day. Don't blame them one bit. We'd do it too if we had the kale.

Don't forget the basket ball game Friday night, Feb. 28, with West Branch at the High School gym. West Branch has won 14 straight victories and has gone through the season undefeated. Frank Barnett narrowly escaped injury one day last week when an icicle weighing between 400 and 500 pounds fell off of a building in the rear of the Grayling Hardware store and when it fell Mr. Barnett was directly under it. Mr. Barnett said it barely scraped the back of his neck and stunned him for a few moments and he still seems to feel the effect of it. He was indeed lucky as an icicle as large as this might have resulted in a more serious accident.

It remained for Marius Hanson to open the 1930 golf season on the local course when he took advantage of the opportunity Sunday by going out and playing 12 holes. This is the earliest the course has ever been played and much earlier than anyone could have expected just a few days before that. On Wednesday of last week there were still huge piles of snow everywhere but the unseasonable warm weather following and the rains of Friday and Saturday completely removed them. Mr. Hanson says he enjoyed the sport immensely. Mr. and Mrs. George Olson were close behind when they played the course on Monday. A number of photos were taken of Mr. and Mrs. Olson in action and others showing how the links looked on that day. We predict that it is going to be a long time before the course will again be played at as early a date as this—February 23 and 24th.

We Ask Questions

We have been asking ourselves some pertinent questions and have been trying to answer them in the light of the spirit and ethic of Jesus. Some of those questions are troubling our minds, and here are some of them:

1. What is the Panacea for our modern ills?
2. Do we need more laws or less laws?
3. What is the most effective way of eliminating the necessity for the continuance of an eighteenth amendment?
4. Why is this amendment a part of the Constitution anyhow? Are the Protestant churches to blame?
5. Should a Christian vote because of character or because of profits?
6. How can we ever expect to realize Jesus "Kingdom of God"?
7. What constitutes public opinion?
8. Can we produce a more perfect type of social order unless we produce a finer type of Christian living?

We will try to answer our own questions in the last message of the series on Pentecost Sunday morning.
